Money Matters: Wisdom of the Ages on Today's Economic Crisis

Wednesday evenings through March 14
No class March 7
7:30-9:00 pm

The Lori Schottenstein Chabad Center

(course also available Mondays 7:15-9:00 pm at the Columbus Jewish Foundation)

CERTIFIED FOR 9 HOURS OF CLE CREDITS

MONEY MATTERS will present Judaism's approach to practical economic dilemmas and monetary quandaries that we face daily in both our personal and professional lives.

The goal of this course is to provide a sensitive, fair, and unshakable economic paradigm grounded in 3,000 years of tradition and practical experience-an ancient yet fresh spin on how we view ethics of money.

Students will emerge from this course with an understanding that only a divine economic system can ensure unequivocal justice while recognizing the virtue in each stakeholder's position. Money Matters will show how the Torah's sharply discerning yet holistic rulings inspire us with the confidence to confront any ethical economic dilemma.
