

Dear Ellie,

There is a very deep rooted foundation to the holiday of Purim that takes place on the Shabbos before Purim – tomorrow, February 28. I refer to the Mitzvah in the Torah to remember what Amalek did to the Jewish people historically, going back to the exodus from Egypt. "Zachor" ("Remember") is the word the Torah uses, and which has become the cry that inspires us to ensure no physical or spiritual residue from Amalek impacts us in our daily lives. Indeed, the rise of the evil Haman in the story of Purim is the direct result of the failure to adhere to the Torah's mandate of "Zachor". The message of Purim is both the celebration of our peoples' survival, as well as the responsibility to remember the people who orchestrated the potential genocide against our people, G-d forbid. It is for this reason that each and every year on the Shabbos before Purim, we read the "Zachor" portion in the Torah reminding us of our responsibility with regards to Amalek.

Very importantly, this portion that we will read tomorrow in shul is the only Torah portion that is a "Biblical" Mitzvah. This is in contrast to all other Torah readings all through the year – including the Torah readings on the High Holy days – which is Rabbinically mandated.

This all leads me to encourage you to join us for services tomorrow. Considering the uniqueness of this Mitzvah, please consider making the effort to attend services tomorrow at 10:30. Together, we will fulfill the Mitzvah of "Parshas Zachor" being read from the Bimah!

On Purim we have 4 opportunities to perform 4 unique mitzvos:

1. Be sure to hear the Megillah twice, once on Wednesday night and then again on Thursday. (See below for megillah reading times.)
2. Celebrate a Purim Feast, including bread and wine, sometime during the day on Thursday, with family and friends. (No Kiddush is recited but the wine or vodka is consumed...)
3. Give Gifts of Food, usually a gift basket of ready-made prepared foods, to at least one friend. This should be done individually by each member of the family.
4. Give money to the poor on this day. If you don't have access to poor on this day, we can act as your agent to distribute. You can make your Purim contribution here.

With very warm best wishes,

Areyah

פרשת השבוע

Parshat Tetzaveh

G-d tells Moses to receive from the children of Israel pure olive oil to feed the "everlasting flame" of the menorah, which Aaron is to kindle each day, "from evening till morning."

The priestly garments, to be worn by the kohanim (priests) while serving in the Sanctuary, are described. All kohanim wore: 1) the ketonet—a full-length linen tunic; 2) michnasayim—linen breeches; 3) mitznetef or migba'at—a linen turban; 4) avnet—a long sash wound above the waist.

In addition, the kohen gadol (high priest) wore: 5) the efod—an apron-like garment made of blue-, purple- and red-dyed wool, linen and gold thread; 6) the choshen—a breastplate containing twelve precious stones inscribed with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel; 7) the me'il—a cloak of blue wool, with gold bells and decorative pomegranates on its hem; 8) the tzitzit—a golden plate worn on the forehead, bearing the inscription "Holy to G-d."

Tetzaveh also includes G-d's detailed instructions for the seven-day initiation of Aaron and his four sons—Nadav, Avihu, Elazar and Itamar—into the priesthood, and for the making of the golden altar, on which the ketoret (incense) was burned.

While I knew that my son greatly enjoyed camp, I didn't realize just how connected he felt to the camp until after the program completed. He felt so close to his counselor... Hollywood Idol analyzes how the culture of Hollywood subliminally influences our society. From dystopian societies in which evil governments force inhabitants into districts, to heroic romances between defiant teen heroes fighting for their freedom, students will discover how every movie-every story-is inherently a message and commentary on life. They will be challenged to consider and think deeply about these messages, whether they really agree with them, and how these values compare with those of our tradition.
