פרשת השבוע

On the eighth day, following the seven days of their inauguration, Aaron and his sons begin to officiate as kohanim (priests); a fire issues forth from G-d to consume the offerings on the altar, and the divine presence comes to dwell in the Sanctuary.

Aaron's elder sons, Nadav and Avihu, offer a "strange fire before G-d, which He commanded them not" and die before G-d. Aaron is silent in face of his tragedy. Moses and Aaron subsequently disagree as to a point of law regarding the offerings, but Moses concedes to Aaron that Aaron is in the right.

G-d commands the kosher laws, identifying the animal species permissible and forbidden for consumption. Land animals may be eaten only if they have split hooves and also chew their cud; fish must have fins and scales; a list of non-kosher birds is given, and a list of kosher insects (four types of locusts).

Also in Shemini are some of the laws of ritual purity, including the purifying power of the mikvah (a pool of water meeting specified qualifications) and the wellspring. Thus the people of Israel are enjoined to "differentiate between the impure and the pure."

The Kabbalah of Sefirat HaOmer
We count 49 days from Passover to Shavuot, the day of the giving of the Torah. In the sidur (prayer book), it associates each day of counting to a different "sefirah" (kabbalistic attribute). How is all of this relevant to us now?

And They Lived Happily Ever After
What About the Day After?

Dear Friend:

It is an ancient custom, on the Festival Holidays and Yom Kippur, when yizkor memorial prayers are recited, to kindle yahrzeit candles for the departed. It is best that the lights be flaming wicks, as the flame and candle symbolize the relation of body and the soul. For yizkor memorial purposes, one light will serve adequately to recall all of your departed loved ones.

We kindle individually the memorial light on Friday early evening, (after an evening flame), prior to the Shabbos in our homes, and recite the Yizkor memorial Prayer on Shabbos Saturday morning as a congregation in the Synagogue.

Bal Shem Tov (also known as Moshiach's Meal) observing the conclusion of Passover

The last day of Passover ("Acharon Shel Pesach") is particularly associated with Moshiach and the future redemption. The Haftarah (reading from the Prophets) for this day is from Isaiah 11, which describes the promised future era of universal peace and divine perfection. Rabbi Israel Baal Shem Tov instituted the custom of partaking of a "Moshiach's meal" on the afternoon of the last day of Passover.
